NASSER to NIXON: "Mr. President, your move next!" ("your worst move for peace is more jets for aggressors")

By BENJAMIN H. FREEDMAN

Founder 1946

League for Peace with Justice in Palestine

The President of the United States and members of Congress surely must know that supplying additional Skyhawk and Phantom jets in 1970 to Zionists in occupied Arab territories will have disastrous consequences for the United States, and maybe for the entire world. They surely must know also that anyone who supplies a gun to another person to go out and commit murder is as guilty of murder as the man who pulls the trigger of the gun. Today the United States stands before the world judged guilty of murder for knowingly supplying Skyhawk and Phantom jets to Zionists in occupied Arab territories to murder helpless and harmless Arab men, women and children in cold blood. What have Arabs ever done to the United States to deserve that kind of treatment from them?

The President of the United States and members of Congress can hardly equate their oaths of office with now supplying military assistance to enable thieves to hold onto their plundered loot, stolen Arab territory. They are knowingly today helping crooks to hold onto their stolen loot. They are making the United States the accessory before and after the fact in a crime which includes mayhem, murder, and massacres. Have they no pride? Have they no shame? What can Zionists offer them as a consideration to degrade and disgrace the country which has done so much for each of them?

The President of the United States and members of Congress will some day and in some way be held strictly accountable by the people who elected them to the high offices they now hold, for disgracing and degrading the United States only to establish themselves in the good graces of Zionists to win their support for themselves in future elections. That reason appears to be a good enough reason for them to betray the best interests of the people who made them what they are today. They must have an idea that the unprovoked and unjustified slaughter of a minimum of one million (1,000,000) Arabs in the Middle East in the recent twenty-five (25) years was truly murder in cold blood. The dishonest clarifications they so frantically invoked did not convince all the two hundred million (200,000,000) U.S. non-Talmudists (non-"Jews").

With credit for it due to Presidents of the United States and members of Congress, Middle East Arabs have been compelled to fight without respite since 1948 in defense of their homeland for more than seventeen centuries. In defense of Middle East Arabs—if a defense is called for under existing circumstances—everywhere in this world from the beginning of time, it was not considered murder to kill an armed intruder who forces himself into another's home to steal that home for himself from its rightful owner. To take a life in defense of one's own home against armed intruders is both legally and morally justified in case self-defense becomes a matter of survival, "the first law of nature." Would the President of the United States and members of Congress deny Middle East Arabs a right this country would fight to the last man to defend? Zionist pressure has compelled the United States to adopt a double-standard in Middle East foreign policy to reciprocate Zionist support in elections for the Presidents of the United States and members of Congress? Whose faces are now turning red?

The President of the United States and members of Congress appear to be suffering from a very bad case of blindspots in their understanding of the simplest fundamentals of the Middle East crisis. Neither do they appear to indicate even the slightest interest in acquiring an understanding about the threat to the national security of this country. They just go on day after day repeating the untruths, half-truths and distortions of the truth Zionists keep putting into their mouths. Can it be possible they have not yet heard about the 1916 secret London Agreement that railroaded the United States into World War I? They now never discuss that but continue raving about the meaningless Balfour Declaration. How degenerate can political perverts get?

It shatters the sensibilities of persons informed on the Middle East background that the President of the United States and members of Congress should be in earnest about supplying Zionists in occupied Arab territories with additional military, economic and financial assistance. They are primarily not much concerned with the best interests of the United States. Their interest at this time must run in other directions, probably their chances of being re-elected.

As this goes to press, there is very little room left for doubt that President Nixon's next move in the Middle East crisis can avoid plunging the United States into war. The most qualified specialists in President Nixon's very own Department of State and Department of Defense have expressed the same opinion. They are firmly of this opinion based upon information on the subject available to them that President Nixon's next move in the Middle East crisis can be expected to precipitate another war which may soon develop into the third world war.

Their reasoning and logic are intelligent. They are the most reliable source for information on this subject. They feel there is only a poor chance to escape that tragic fate. They now think that chance depends entirely upon President Nixon's ability to withstand the pressure Zionists will put on him to favor them when President Nixon makes his next move in the Middle East crisis. It is sad but none the less true that the fate of this country may hang in the balance of President Nixon's next move in now supplying the Zionists with more jets.

It savors of a betrayal of time-honored traditions for the President of the United States and members of Congress to secretly conspire with Zionists in the United States for strictly personal political considerations to fix upon the number of additional Skyhawk and Phantom jets they will supply Zionists now in occupied Arab territories.

By what stretch of their imaginations do the President of the United States and members of Congress reconcile their support of Zionist aggression in occupied Arab territories with the noble principles of the Constitution of the United States which they have solemnly sworn to respect and uphold? By what theory of patriotism are they plundering taxpayers for money to aid and abet Zionists in occupied Arab territories retain illegal possession of territories they stole from Arabs they then expelled from their seventeen-centuries homeland.

The President of the United States and members of Congress know their political existence would be snuffed out like the flame of a candle in a Texas cyclone if they disobeyed instructions of Zionists on what attitude to feign on the question of Zionist occupied Arab territories. Zionists tell them what attitude to feign concerning Zionists now in occupied Arab territories in their criminal conspiracy to acquire Palestine for reasons totally different from what the world has been given by them to believe.

Does again getting elected to office really mean so much to the President of the United States and members of Congress that they knowingly become accessories to reducing the United States to the status of a satellite of the Zionist armed uprising masquerading as a so-called sovereign state under their misnomer of "Israel" to bemuse Christians?

The threat of the so-called "Zionist movement" will disappear like fog when the sun comes out, silently and slowly but surely, just as soon as these facts are known by more persons to show the sinister international political forces which in 1896 gave birth to the "Zionist movement," as that conspiracy was baptized by its organizers to bemuse gullible Christians. Zionists will then no longer be able to bemuse gullible Christians with their spiritual slops to justify Zionist illegal and immoral occupation of Arab territories, like their favorite "the repatriation of God's chosen people to the promised land." All Zionist spiritual slops have always proven just bigger lies.

The authentic official documents dealing with World War I and World War II were released in 1946 for the first time by the National Archives of Great Britain and the United States to historians for research. The evidence of Zionist guilt they disclosed was incredible. The proof of Zionist guilt they reveal confirms beyond all question of doubt the United States was railroaded into World War I and World War II by Zionists. The proof of Zionist guilt established by these documents confirms the United States was railroaded into both world wars. That proof is accepted as undeniable by authorities eminently qualified to assess the value of their amazing contents.

The ghost of Great Britain's secret 1916 London Agreement is again casting its menacing shadow over the world. That illicit understanding has already railroaded the United States into two world wars to facilitate the illegal occupation of Arab territories by transplanted Zionists. It was a national misfortune that this country was railroaded into two world wars to achieve that ill-advised purpose. The United States now faces the prospect of being railroaded into another world war. The ill-advised purpose of that war to to permanently entrench the Zionists in occupied Arab territories with United States help.

The United States was railroaded into World War I as a consequence of Great Britain's need to give consideration fast to Germany's 1916 peace-offer. If Great Britain did not accept Germany's peace-offer when it was made, Great Britain would in less than four weeks be compelled to ask Germany for surrender terms. After fighting Germany for two years, Great Britain was on the verge of surrendering to Germany in October 1916 on very near the same day when Germany made her 1916 peace-offer.

In London in October 1916 the representatives of the World Zionist Organization had learned the terms of Germany's peace-offer. The London representatives of the World Zionist Organization, Weizmann, Sokolof and Landman, hurried to submit their proposal to the British War Cabinet. They acted quickly. They wanted to submit their proposal before the British War Cabinet acted upon Germany's peace-offer. There was the possibility the British War Office might have accepted Germany's peace-offer before the Zionists could make a proposal.

The London representatives of the World Zionist Organization arrived in time to submit their proposal. The World Zionist Organization proposed that as consideration for railroadding the United States into the war in Europe as Great Britain's ally that Great Britain agree to turn Palestine over to the "Jews" of the world after Great Britain defeated Germany and carved up the Ottoman Empire, Germany's ally in World War I. Palestine in 1916 had been a province of the Ottoman Empire five hundred (500) years. In 1916 Palestine's population was ninety-five percent Arab.

Great Britain was confident in October 1916 that Great Britain could defeat Germany even at that late date if the United States came into the war in Europe as Great Britain's ally. Great Britain had no reason to believe that Germany and the Ottoman Empire could not be defeated by Great Britain with the United States as an ally. The United States armed forces of four million soldiers all equipped with the world's most modern weapons were ready to immediately get into the war in Europe.

If President Nixon becomes a casualty in the futile war of nerves waged by him for several months with the Zionists in the United States and Tel Aviv, that war will suddenly come to an end when the United States is again railroaded into war as the United States was railroaded into World War I in 1917 by President Wilson and into World War II in 1941 by President Roosevelt.

Great Britain never owned a square inch of Palestine in all history. Driven by the necessity of circumstances, the British War Office felt justified in accepting the World Zionist Organization's offer. The British War Cabinet and the World Zionist Organization agreed upon the terms of their arrangement about Palestine in London in October 1916. Great Britain on many occasions regretted having promised as a consideration something which was never Great Britain's to rightfully promise anyone.

The first of two of the most suppressed histories is the mystery why the Talmudists ("Jews") of eastern European Khazar ancestry affiliated themselves as a nation with the so-called "Zionist movement." The second is the mystery of what suddenly compelled Lord Rothschild in July 1917, to completely reverse himself and volunteer to provide the so-called "Zionist movement" with unlimited financial assistance from his personal fortune of astronomical figures, if in return the Zionists agreed to apply to admit Palestine to the British Empire as a member as soon as Great Britain turned Palestine over to the Zionists after the war.

The limited space available here will permit only a very brief outline of the history of the heathen Asiatic Mongoloid Turco-Finn Khazar nation. They invaded eastern Europe in the period between the 1st A.D. and 4th A.D. centuries. The heathen Khazar kingdom was converted in the 8th A.D. century to the monotheistic faith then known as Talmudism ("Judaism"). History refers to them after their conversion as the eastern European Talmudists ("Jews") of Khazar ancestry. As the most powerful country in all Europe and Europe's largest population the Khazar kingdom was finally conquered and annexed in the 13th A.D. century by the rapidly expanding young powerful Russian Empire. The Khazar kingdom had dominated Europe from the Ural Mountains to the Baltic Sea and from the Black Sea northward almost to the Arctic Circle for ten centuries prior to their conquest by the Russian Empire. For seventy-five years the Zionists have bemused the gullible Christians that the eastern European Talmudists ("Jews") of Khazar ancestry were all descended from the people of Palestine in Bible history and are termed in religious observance today as "God's chosen people."

A history of the Khazars follows in the quotations from three of the greatest authorities on that subject, Professor Allen H. Godbey, Professor H. Graetz and The Jewish Encyclopedia. The enormity of this Zionist fraud will be understood by readers who will take the time to read these quotations very carefully, and if their patience will permit more than once. The converted and conquered Khazar Talmudists ("Jews") after their final conquest by the Russians in the 13th A.D. century were determined never to remain a conquered nation. Prior to their conquest and annexation by the Russians, the Khazars had never been ruled by conquerors in their 1500 year history.

The Jewish Publication Society of America published The Jewish Encyclopedia in Philadelphia in 1903. The Jewish Encyclopedia is recognized throughout the world as the most reliable compendium of information on this subject. The Jewish Encyclopedia, in Volume IV, pages 1 to 5, presents one of the most comprehensive histories of the Khazars to be found anywhere. The New York Public Library has a celebrated collection of three hundred and fifty three (353) additional histories of the Khazars. Many of them were written by contemporaries of the Khazars, including Nestor the celebrated 10th century Russian historian, many in their original languages and many in English by modern historians based on long years of research on Khazars. The Congressional Library in Washington also possesses an extraordinary rare book museum collection on the Khazar history.

The space available in this issue can only permit an expurgated quotation from The Jewish Encyclopedia history of Khazars:

"Khazars . . . a people of Turkish origin whose life and history are interwoven with the very beginnings of the history of the Jews in Russia . . . driven on by nomadic tribes of the steppes and by their own desire for plunder and revenge . . . in the second half of the sixth century the Khazars moved westward . . . the kingdom of the Khazars was firmly established in most of south Russia long before the foundation of the Russian monarchy of the Varangians in 855 A.D. . . . at this time the kingdom of the Khazars stood at the height of its power and was constantly at war . . . at the end of the eighth century . . . the king of the Khazars and his grandees, together with a large number of his heathen people, embraced the Jewish religion . . . the Jewish population in the entire domain of the Khazars, in the period between the seventh and tenth centuries, must have been considerable . . . about the ninth century, it appears as if all the Khazars were Jews and that they had been converted to Judaism only a short time before . . . it was one of the successors of Bulan named Obadiah, who regenerated the kingdom and strengthened the Jewish religion . . . he invited Jewish scholars to settle in his dominion, and founded synagogues and schools . . . the people were instructed in the Bible, Mishnah, and the Talmud and in the 'divine service of the hazzanim' . . . in their writings the Khazars used Hebrew letters . . . Khazar languages predominated . . . Obadiah was succeeded by his son, Hanukkah, a brother of Obadiah; Hanukkah by his son Isaac; Isaac by his son Moses (or Manasseh II); the latter by his son Nisi; and Nisi by his son Aaron II. King Joseph himself was a son of Aaron, and ascended the throne in accordance with the law of the Khazars relating to succession . . . the king had twenty-five wives, all of royal blood, and sixty concubines, all famous beauties. Each one slept in a separate tent and was watched by a eunuch . . . this seems to have been the beginning of the downfall of the Khazar kingdom . . . The Russian Varangians established themselves at Kiev . . . until the final conquest of the Khazars by the Russians . . . after a hard fight the Russians conquered the Khazars . . . four years later the Russians conquered all the Khazarian territory east of the Azov . . . many members of the Khazarian royal family emigrated to Spain . . . some went to Hungary, but the great mass of the people remained in their native country." (End of quotation from The Jewish Encyclopedia).

The eminent Professor H. Graetz, himself the renowned Talmudist ("Jew") of eastern European Khazar ancestry, is recognized throughout the religious world as one of the foremost authorities on the history of the Khazars. He is the author of "History of the Jews." The expurgated quotation which follows is from Professor Graetz's four-volume classic "History of the Jews" which established Professor Graetz's reputation as one of the most erudite scholars in the religious field. Professor Graetz's "History of the Jews" remains unequalled to this day as an outstanding compendium on the subject of Khazars. Professor Graetz reveals for the first time anywhere information about the Khazars which is extremely interesting and important. His facts completely contradict the spiritual slops fed by Zionists to gullible Christians for many decades. An expurgated quotation from Professor Graetz's "History of the Jews" follows here:

"The Khazars professed a coarse religion, which was combined with sensuality and lewdness . . . after Obadiah came a long series of Jewish kings, for according to a fundamental law of the state only Jewish rulers were permitted to ascend the throne . . . for some time the Jews of other countries had no knowledge of the conversion of this powerful kingdom to Judaism, and when at last a vague rumor to this effect reached them, they were of the opinion that Khazaria was peopled by the remnant of the former Ten Tribes." (End of quotation from History of the Jews).

Professor Allen H. Godbey, Ph.D. was Professor of Old Testament at Duke University for practically his entire professional career. Professor Godbey is long dead but continues to be recognized throughout the religious world as a leading authority on the subject of the Khazars. Professor Godbey spent fifty years assembling the information for his celebrated classic "The Lost Tribes a Myth, Suggestions Towards Rewriting Hebrew History." Professor Godbey often stated that the instructor who depends on old works on this subject "is as dead as the past generation." He believed too much time was wasted on old and useless or misleading books. Long observation prompted Professor Godbey to include a warning of the worthlessness of some such books in the bibliography in the back of his "The Lost Tribes a Myth, Suggestions Towards Rewriting Hebrew History."

Duke University Press in 1930 published Professor Godbey's "The Lost Tribes a Myth, Suggestions Towards Rewriting Hebrew History." That celebrated compendium on the subject contains eight hundred and two (802) pages crowded with information on the subject not obtainable from any other source. The book also includes forty-two (42) pages of rare photographs that were not easy to secure and can never be replaced. The photographs show many interesting ethnic types of Talmudists ("Jews") throughout the world from the ancient Hurrian to the present time. The book was printed by Seeman Press of Durham, North Carolina. It was distributed in the United States by G. E. Stechert & Co., in Great Britain by the Cambridge University Press, in Japan by Maruzen and Company, in China by Edward Evans & Sons, Ltd., in the Argentine by J. Lajouana & Co. If the book is still available it should be read by every person desiring to be fully informed by an authority on this subject.

In Professor Godbey's "The Lost Tribes a Myth, Suggestions Towards Rewriting Hebrew History," in Chapter XI, page 257, the following appears:

"The Turkish Khazars came from the Ural Mountains, expelled by more savage and powerful people from Central Asia. The movement began near 400 B.C. The Khazars spread between the Don and Lower Volga, pushing Sarmatians westward to absorb the previously independent Iranic Scythians. But it should not be supposed that such Khazar movement meant complete extermination of the earlier population. Nor in the case of settled peoples does such an invasion as the Khazar result in a complete migration of the older settled population. Much of it remains as an important element in the new political regime. And such absorbed peoples may strongly affect their conquerors. It is a mistake to write of the Khazar kingdom as composed of a single unmixed ethnic group. The invaders included white Khazars, and others 'black as Hindoos.' There are several well-known migrations through southern Russia in the historic period. The earlier Iranic migrations south of the Caucasus and Black Sea . . . Asia Minor were noticed in Chapter V. There came during Byzantine times migrations of other savage nomads through southern Russia, each leaving a new ethnic stratum. So when the Khazar incursions are said to have reached the lower Volga by 400 B.C., and to have spread through the Caucasus to the borders of Armenia by 198 A.D., it means that the Khazars became the dominant political element in this movement of six hundred years' duration, but they no more displaced the many earlier ethnic strata of population in these regions than the Normans displaced the earlier English. It is recognized by historians and ethnologists that Byzantine and Arab writers called all the mingled peoples of the Don and Lower Volga, "Khazars." That fact is ignored by some Jewish writers upon the conversion of the Khazars. Recluse records that the term included the preceding Iranic peoples of the Don and Volga, the invading Nogai Tartars, the Georgians or Karthli, and some of the southern Talish-Tat-Iranians. That description tacitly includes the intervening Caucasus tribes, some of whom — Abkhasians, Ossetes, Circassians, Kum-yaks, Lesghians — are spoken of more as partners than as subjects of the Khazar movement. Tartars, Slavs, Huns, and Bulgars also became elements of the domination. During the eight hundred years following their reaching the Armenian frontier, the Khazar-directed group battled first with Armenians and then with Arabs for control of Trans-Caucasia, and also pushed northward from the Black Sea and Caucasus nearly to the Gulf of Finland. The Crimea became known as "Khazaria": thirteen commercial cities were upon the northern coast of the Black Sea, and twenty-five peoples were claimed as tributaries. The Khazars presented the greatest commingling of ethnic elements of any political power in Europe . . . When the Khazar kingdom was overthrown by the Russians, 970-1016 A.D., many Khazars remained as part of the Jewish population, and late unread travellers discovered the 'lost ten tribes' on the River Don! Many Khazars and Slavic Jews fled to the Caucasus and the Crimea . . . The question of the historic conversion of certain rulers of this Khazar empire in Russia, about 679 A.D., more than a thousand years after the Khazars began to appear on the Lower Volga, is then primarily a question of the spread of earlier Yahwism or later Judaism among the numerous earlier ethnic groups around the Black Sea, and among the earlier Khazars . . . But following a war with the Bulgars that drove them across the Dneiper in 679 A.D., Bulan, the Khagan of the Khazars, is said to have given Jewish, Christian and Moslem champions a hearing at his court, and to have decided for Judaism . . . Though the Khazar ruling class was driven from Russia a thousand years ago, many different ethnic elements remain commingled in the present Judaism of western and southern Russia and Poland. Its vast numerical preponderance, amounting to three-fourths of ecumenical Judaism, compels the inquiry, were these same numerous ethnic elements in South Russia in pre-Khazar times? And how early and by what routes did Judaism reach these peoples who in later times proselyted the Khazar rulers . . . When the Khazar kingdom was overthrown by the Russians, 970-1016 A.D., many Khazars remained as part of the Jewish populations, and later unread travellers discovered the lost ten tribes on the River Don! Many Khazar and Slavic Jews fled to the Caucasus and the Crimea. Those Khazars who retreated into Asia included some who carried Judaism with them . . . But the fact that the Jew or southern Russia is not somatically 'Semitic' or Hurrian is emphasized by ethnologists. The evidences of Slavonic blood are everywhere observable. Numbers add their testimony. The fact that three-fourths of the Jews in the world are now in this section of Europe cannot be explained as the result of alluring Russian invitations, promoting immigrations. Slavonic and Tartar and Germanic Jewish faces abound, with Iranic and Mongolian infusions . . . But when the Jewish Khazars were driven from central Russia, another asylum was opened to them. The Hungarian Duke Taksony had been overrunning neighboring regions with the dream of an empire in his hand. His final and crushing defeat in 970 A.D. left his lands much depopulated, and he invited various tribes as settlers, among them the Jewish Khazars, thus planting Judaism in Hungary as a favored people. When the Hungarians removed to Dacia and Pannonia, their reigning family, the Kabary, were a Khazar tribe . . . Some Khazar and Slavonic blood has been infused, for quite a number resemble their Jew Neighbors. But the Sephardic type, of southwest Europe, does not appear among them." (End of quotation from "The Lost Tribes a Myth, Suggestions Towards Rewriting Hebrew History.")

What would Christians think if a house of prostitution when raided had the prostitutes all arrested? What would Christians think if the prostitutes appeared in court for trial the next day wearing nun's attire and reprimanded the judge for placing nuns on trial as prostitutes? What would Christians think if the "madam" who operated the house of prostitution told the judge her "house" was a convent? What would the Christians think if the judge dismissed the charges against the prostitutes and their "madam" because they then assumed the misnomers "nun" and "convent" in Court?

The eastern European converted Tureo-Finn Khazars illegally transplanted into Palestine had no more right to call their armed uprising "Israel" and themselves "Israelis" than the prostitutes had to call themselves nuns and the "madam" had to call the "house" where she carried on her illegal and immoral enterprise a "convent." President Truman will find it as difficult to live down "recognition" of the armed uprising in Palestine eleven minutes after it was "proclaimed" seven thousand (7,000) miles away in the middle of the night on May 14, 1948 as he will find it to live down dropping two atomic bombs on Japanese civilian populations. Counterfeit Christians under satisfactory arrangements appear ready, willing and able to commit an un-Christian, non-Christian and anti-Christian offense for cash or for any consideration.

It is not beyond the realm of possibility that what happened twice can happen a third time. The population of the United States was not permitted to learn why the United States was railroaded into those two world wars. They never learned the truth because Zionists exercise censorship over the media for mass information in the United States. Zionists wanted them to learn only what they wanted the public to believe about the Palestine question. The public now realizes the United States was railroaded into World War I and World War II by connivance between the Presidents of the United States and members of Congress with domestic Zionist traitors.

Mr. Kissinger should voluntarily disqualify himself as President Nixon's Assistant on National Security in consideration of the Middle East threat to our national security. President Nixon's office issued a release quite recently suggesting that the Middle East threat to our security would not be made the responsibility of Mr. Kissinger. It would be reassuring to hear officially if that is today the policy of President Nixon.

For reasons too obvious to dwell upon here, throughout the nation it is hoped that President Nixon will not assign the Middle East crisis to Mr. Henry Kissinger as President Nixon's Assistant on National Security. President Nixon no doubt appointed Mr. Kissinger his Assistant on National Security before the Middle East crisis became a threat to our national security. For a long time there was the possibility that the Big Four Powers might reach an agreement on a plan for a political settlement based upon United Nations July 1967 resolution. There was never reason to believe that compromise could have been imposed except by force upon the Arab states the long time victims of Zionist aggression.

In lieu of any statement to the contrary by Mr. Kissinger, it can be assumed that Mr. Kissinger is a Zionist partisan. That is a reasonable assumption. Mr. Kissinger was born in Berlin, Germany, the son of a rabbi. If Mr. Kissinger is a Zionist partisan it might be unwise for President Nixon to follow the recommendations of Mr. Kissinger with reference to the Middle East at this time. Both President Nixon and Mr. Kissinger might have reason to regret Mr. Kissinger's advice in view of the prospects.

The President of the United States and members of Congress might show a more loyal interest in the letter and the spirit of their oaths of office if what took place seven thousand (7,000) miles away in Palestine in 1948 was taking place in 1970 in Texas so much closer to home. Their patriotism has been perverted by a double standard they apply to loyalty. They have one standard of loyalty for Zionists and one for the balance of the nation. It might possibly mitigate their treason to tradition to pray, "Father forgive them for they know not what they do." What would God answer?

What would the President of the United States and members of Congress do if in 1970 the Soviet Union secretly engineered the illegal immigration of one million (1,000,000) Mexicans into Texas across the border separating Texas from Mexico by their connivance with dishonest United States immigration officials on the border?

What would they do if corrupt Texas legislators bribed with funds provided by the Soviet Union enacted legislation denying Texans the right to possess firearms of any description even small arms for defense against wild animals in rural Texas areas?

What would they do if the Soviet Union smuggled into Texas weapons valued at no less than three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000.00) and distributed them free of charge to the one million (1,000,000) Mexicans illegally transplanted into Texas?

What would the President of the United States and members of Congress do if the one million (1,000,000) Mexicans illegally transplanted into Texas armed by the Soviet Union with the world's most sophisticated weapons of every description, heavy and light machine guns, flame throwers, recoilless rifles, napalm bombs, bazookas, light and heavy tanks, and four-motored bombing planes, without any justification or provocation by Texans, suddenly drove the disarmed and defenseless Texans into the deserts of Arizona and New Mexico with nothing but the clothes on their backs?

What would they do if the one million (1,000,000) illegally transplanted Mexicans simultaneously broadcast to the world that their armed uprising was now the Republic of Alamo, using the misleading term Alamo as a misnomer for their armed uprising on account of the sentimental attachment for the term Alamo by Mexicans before Texas became an independent state and was subsequently admitted into the United States?

What would the President of the United States and members of Congress do if the one million (1,000,000) Mexicans illegally transplanted into Texas promptly broadcast a proclamation by the Republic of Alamo announcing to the world that the territory that was until then the state of Texas was now the property of the Republic of Alamo including all privately owned homes and other improvements including the oil industry and that the Republic of Alamo would not pay anybody anything for all they stole?

What would they do if the one million (1,000,000) Mexicans illegally transplanted into Texas refused permission to expelled Texans to return to their homes in Texas now inhabited by families of the illegally transplanted Mexicans, telling the expelled Texans they could find plenty of vacant land far away in Utah, Montana and North Dakota where they could settle and start life anew amongst people like themselves?

What would the President of the United States and the members of Congress do if expelled Texans were compelled to live in the deserts of Arizona and New Mexico exposed to the elements with tents as their only shelter against the elements with only seven cents (7¢) a day for food contributed by members of the United Nations?

What would they do as representatives of the populations of the other forty-nine (49) states of the United States knowing that one million (1,000,000) Mexicans illegally transplanted into Texas were living in luxury in the homes of expelled Texans while the expelled Texans existed as paupers on public charity in the deserts of Arizona and New Mexico under tents as refugees?

What would the President of the United States and members of Congress do if the Soviet Union continued supplying the Republic of Alamo with unlimited amounts of the world's most up-to-date sophisticated weapons of every description valued in the billions of dollars and economic and financial assistance sufficient to make the Republic of Alamo, the former state of Texas, equally powerful to the combined military and economic strength of all the other forty-nine (49) states of the United States together?

What would they do if the armed forces of the Republic of Alamo extended their borders by unprovoked armed aggression to include large areas of Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas, three states adjoining the state of Texas? Would the President of the United States and members of Congress condone or condemn the Soviet Union for playing the role of guardian angel and patron saint for the one million (1,000,000) Mexicans illegally transplanted into Texas?

The role played in Texas in 1970 by the Soviet Union would be identical in all respects with the role played by the United States in Palestine in 1948. The mendacious duplicity of the President of the United States and members of Congress resulted in the literal crucifixion of populations of Middle East countries. Arabs discovered too late they had been misled into placing their confidence in the President of the United States and members of Congress.

There is one more fact to call to the attention of the President of the United States and members of Congress. The one million (1,000,000) Mexicans illegally transplanted into Texas could rightly claim Texas as their "ancestral homeland." Texas was inhabited altogether by Mexicans before Texas proclaimed its independence of Mexico and subsequently applied for admission to the United States. The Zionists illegally transplanted into Palestine from eastern Europe never had an ancestor who ever set foot in the Holy Land in Bible history. They manufactured the spiritual slops about "the repatriation of God's chosen people to the promised land" to bemuse gullible Christians as camouflage for their criminal conspiracy to steal Palestine from the Arabs.

The explanation that the President of the United States and the members of Congress offer to justify their infidelity to the traditions of the United States entrusted to their care by the electorate in the 1968 elections is their claim that the Soviet Union is about to swallow up the Middle East. If the Soviet Union does replace the United States in the good graces of the Arab peoples then the Soviet Union owes a vote of thanks to the President of the United States and to the members of Congress.

The President of the United States and members of Congress handed the Middle East to the Soviet Union on a silver platter. The Soviet Union did not have to ask for it. The necessity of the President of the United States and members of Congress to allure the support of the Zionists in elections in the United States compelled them to promise military, economic and financial support of the United States regardless of the best interests of the United States.

public officials, in Federal, State and municipal positions throughout the nation. Obey that impulse. Order a generous supply before retiring tonight. A copy sent by a reader of this plea may be the straw that breaks the camel's back. Too little and too late now may seal the fate of the nation. It is really later than readers think, much too much later. Do not forget it is always better to be safe than it is to be sorry.

THE PALESTINE DIARY

By ROBERT JOHN and SAMI HADAWI

For the first time, from the secret files of the United States, Great Britain and the United Nations, official documentation of the great international conspiracy to create the synthetic so-called "Jewish State" in Palestine, exposed in the context of national and international politics and two world wars which resulted, and their worldwide impact.

The fate of the world hinges upon the secret history now revealed to the world for the first time in this book, a history about which until now the world has been denied the secret dramatic story, based upon historic documents that have never before been made public. Read the documents then judge the perfidy that was practised upon the civilized world while good men did nothing.

Supersonic bombers built in the United States and in the Soviet Union are streaking across the Middle East skies. The Middle East is a critical area where Europe, Asia and Africa meet, with their enormous oil reserves, their important other natural resources, and strategic significance for naval bases. Leading military and political strategists predict endless conflict will lead to the eventual use of atomic weapons. This book presents the United States commitment from the perspective of a little known history.

Through sources that are available to the authors of this book, you can follow the tortuous intrigues of World War I and II, and the actual words of the delegates to the United Nations dealing with their criminal conspiracy to cover-up for the Zionists.

The Palestine Diary consists of two volumes: Vol. I: (1914-1945) — Great Britain's Involvement, Vol. II: (1945-1948) — United States and the United Nations Intervention. The price for both volumes is $12.00, which includes the facsimile copy of the secret documents never before this made public.
